BELIEVE PEACE IN SIGHT

AMBASSADOR GERARD EXPRESSES HIMSELF POSITIVELY

FRANCE REGAINS PART OF HER LOSSES IN VICINITY OF THE VERDUN STRONGHOLD

(By Associated Press.)

BERLIN, May 27.—Ambassador Gerard is convinced that peace is in sight, according to a published interview, which reads: "Nothing can shake my confidence that peace is on its way." He referred to the settlement of the differences between the United States and Germany as preparing the way, adding, "the president now has greater freedom to deal with the problem."

AUSTRIANS CAPTURE ITALIANS

(By Associated Press.)

VIENNA, May 27.—Twenty-five hundred Italians have been captured by Austrians who stormed the mountain ridge of Cornoi-campe from Verde to Maata. The report says, "The enemy suffered sanguinary losses."

HARRY LEFKOVITZ TURNS DEAL IN ARIZONA FOR TWO MILLIONS

The Arizona papers are filled with enthusiastic accounts of the remarkable ability displayed by Harry Lefkowitz in putting over a $2,000,000 deal by which he acquired possession of the Inspiration Needles copper mine in the Miami district. The interest manifested in this transaction is described as greater than at any time since the opening of the Inspiration mine. The property is within 1200 feet of the Live Oak shaft of the Inspiration.

A recent issue of the Phoenix, Arizona, Gazette refers to Lefkowitz as "the young and brilliant mining promoter from Nevada."

Harry and his brother Louis had their start in the promotion game in Tonopah where they began in a modest way conducting a small store where the Kind firm is located. At the beginning they did not carry much of a stock as they had only an attenuated shoestring to work on but by shrewd management and quick conversion of stock they kept their money turning until soon they owned one of the largest commercial establishments in Tonopah. When Goldfield began to boom, the brothers followed the rush and opened the Red Front store on lower Main street below Crook where they did a land office business. This was the age of promotions and the boys could not resist the temptation to get in on the ground floor which they did to the extent of organizing several companies on which they made a neat turn.

When the Rawhide boom set in they hit the trail again as it was the nature of the boys to be on the ground floor whenever there was anything of a promising nature. In Rawhide they bought out the stock and title of the E. Marks company and proceeded to expand at a rate that surpassed the best hopes of their friends. They grew so rapidly that a second store across the street was added to their holdings and there the boys thrived until it developed that they had exceeded the credit of the firm they had bought out and then creditors began worrying about payments. The Lefkowitz boys had been devoting considerable time to mining and promotions leaving the management of their store to the heads of departments. These men over bought in the most extravagant fashion. The chief of the hardware division ordered a carload of giant powder that came through with a slight draft attached for $5,000. The next day another sight draft for $6,500 was presented to cover a carload of sugar which the grocery head had ordered. Then the demands grew so numerous that the Lefkowitz boys found themselves up against the law and engaged Charles L. Richards to straighten out the tangle. The result was they left Rawhide without any bank roll and were next heard of in San Francisco where they began as though they had never met with a reverse. The boys also had an experience in Manhattan that gave them a boost downhill. They had been operating there with a store and promoting on the side and got pretty well sewed up when the earthquake came and the firm blew up.

Through all their dealings no one ever cast a doubt on the integrity of the boys who had the reputation of always paying off their debts.

CLUTCHES OF THE FEDERAL AUTHORITIES

Schlatter and Gus Agard, according to the authorities were arrested in New York where they were indicted on the same charges.

Schrader is in jail in default of $5,000 bail. The indictments allege the defendants used the mails to solicit persons to "send as much money as could be spared for good" wrapped in a handkerchief. In return they agreed to return the blessed handkerchief to "be applied to the afflicted part."

EXHIBITION OF SCHOOL WORK TO PRECEDE VACATION TIME

A rare treat is in store for the public in a very short time when the work of the pupils of the manual training school and that of the domestic science will be placed on exhibition. In the fifth and sixth grades, sewing is taught to all the pupils and occasional lessons in cooking. In the seventh and eighth grades both sewing and cooking is taught and continued through the high school. Mrs. Smith has adopted the individual method of instruction, which, of course, means more work for the teacher, but owing to conditions, it has been necessary to carry out this plan. Then, too, very little attention is devoted to fancy work. Utility has been the first thing to consider and the garment that is needed is given the preference in each instance.

There will be about seventy five dresses in the exhibit and though the designs are very simple, the attractiveness of the work of the pupils is wonderful.

INDUSTRIAL STRIFE WILL FOLLOW WAR

GOMPERS TAKES THE PLATFORM
AT THE BIG PEACE
TALK

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 27.—In every state, county, and city branches of the league to enforce peace must be organized to create public sentiment favorable to the United States joining a federation of nations to minimize future wars, the speakers asserted. Strong public opinion is necessary for success of the plan, Mott Hallowell, a Boston attorney said.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in an address at the first annual national assembly of the League to Enforce Peace, said that labor had borne most of the burdens growing out of wars in the past, with little to say in regard to the declaring of wars or their conduct. Labor, he declared, must have an increasing voice in the peace of the future. Mr. Gompers said in part:

The graduating class will have made every piece of their apparel for the evening. The dresses must not cost more than five dollars. The materials are of voile, marquisette, organza, mull, soft silks, and trimmings are of lace in most instances. No flowers will be used on this occasion. The general design favors a slightly de-collette and skirts are nine inches from floor.

The work of the various grades shows a marked improvement during the past few months. The little tots run close seconds to some of the larger girls and many are deft needleworkers.

The girls of the eighth grade will each have a dress to display to fond friends and the interested public. Considering that the major part of the pupils hitherto had no training in sewing, there is small wonder that parents and public are so gratified with the progress of the children.

NEW YORK GROUP WILL BE REOPENED

OWNERS ORGANIZE COMPANY TO RESUME SINKING TO WATER LEVEL

(By Associated Press.)

Another of Tonopah's outside properties is shortly to be operated. It was what was formerly known as the New York group, but now the Lowell group. It consists of the Lowell and

"No class has more to lose and less to gain in war than the workers. No class renders such sacrificial service during war and bears such staggering burdens after war as does labor. In war, labor sees the results of years of struggle for wider justice swept away. In one mad moment the clock of industrial progress may be turned back for a generation. War diverts the mind of peoples from the constructive work of humanizing and democratizing the relations of men. Recognizing them, working men the world over have avowed their allegiance to the cause of peace and have sworn undying part."

Death of General Gallieni Military Governor of Paris

(By Associated Press.)

VERSAILLES, May 27.—General Joseph Gallieni, idolized by the French as the savior of Paris, in the battle of the Marne, in the critical days of August, 1914, died today. He rushed 80,000 to the battle of the Marne, which turned the tide in favor of the French.

Of all the French generals in the European war few had a better filled life than General Gallieni, who, on the outbreak of the great war in August, 1914, was appointed military governor of the entrenched camp of Paris. Born of a military family at St. Beal, April 24, 1849, he had reached the age limit for retirement in 1913, but was maintained in active service by decree, the minister of war holding that the services he had rendered as governor general of Madagascar justified an exception generally made only in favor of generals who have held a supreme command in the face of the enemy.

In the forty-five years of his military career, Gallieni had participated in some of the dramatic episodes of the war of 1870, explored the Upper Niger and imposed a French protectorate over the region; pacified the colony of Indo-China, deposed Queen Ranavoa of Madagascar and conquered and developed the colony. But twelve times he had written four notable books on the exploration.

On August 27, 1914, with the Germans threatening Paris, he was given the important post of commander of the entrenched camp and military governor of Paris. The question of declaring Paris an open town was seriously discussed at that time. The departure of the government for Bordeaux created a great deal of uneasiness and all those who were in the capital at the time recall the feeling of relief and revival of confidence following the posting of Gallieni's presence.

FOUR DEATHS IN A COLLEGE FIRE

OSKALOOSA

(By Associated Press.)

Lowell No. 1, 2, and 3 claims. They adjoint the Jim Butler and West End properties to the southward.

In the early days of the camp a shaft was sunk 850 feet. It was inspected several days ago and the timbers were found to be in excellent condition.

The present owners of the group are Charles Slayter, M. C. Smith and the H. H. Hill estate. The capping has always been deemed to be very thick in that portion of the district, but the latest formation to be hoisted indicates that the vein bearing material may be reached above the permanent water level.

BRAVERY OF CHAPLAINS ON THE FIELD RECOGNIZED IN ORDERS OF THE DAY

(By Associated Press.)

PARIS, May 27.—A campaign by the extreme anti-clerical elements of the Radical and Socialist parties against the presence of priests at the battle fronts in daily contact with soldiers has brought sharply into public notice the work that these priests have done and are doing at the front.

Thus about 100 priests and half as many Protestants and Israelites were authorized to accompany the army.

The number of priests who have given their lives on the field of battle has not yet been counted, for besides the chaplains there are several thousand priests incorporated in the auxiliary services, or who volunteered for active service. A great many deaths, however, have been reported among the chaplains under heroic circumstances. The Rabbi, Abraham Bloch, was fatally wounded at Saint-Die by a fragment of a shell at the moment when he handed a crucifix to a wounded soldier who had taken him for a Catholic priest. The Abbe Villier, chaplain of the civil hospital of Arras, was killed by a shell while seeking to save his patients during a bombardment of Arras. Chaplain Dubreuil died at the extreme point of positions conquered by the Zouaves
